Re-enter the Old-Fashioned Girl—Well, Maybe!

THIS will be girls again, according to despatches from Paris, advertisements of fall frocks, statements by style experts. And all the other sources of passionate propaganda for fashion.

But, we learn from these loud-crying tongues of testimony, the boyish form—Also the boyish haircut—Also free and exposed legs, straight and simple lines, small and plain hats—And all the other accepted trademarks of the modern girl.

Trademarks which have more or less stamped her for at least ten years. Or ever since the end of the war. Correspondents in the French capital report that already on the boulevards. Who are doing their level best to register all the sweet womanly charm. Of Thackeray's Amelia, and a host of other old-fashioned heroines.

The most startling change in the Autumn Girl of 1929 will be, so they say, her skirt—

It really is coming down. If we can believe fashion soothsayers. In the evening it will be long, longer, longest behind, with a train, maybe. And even in front it will be only a few inches from the floor.

Skirts for daytime wear, we are told, will be at least three inches below the knee.

Some say longer than that, but three inches is the "maximum drop," according to a wise designer in Chicago.

"The hoarse and shoe men will not stand for anything else," he explains candidly. However, the change will be sufficiently startling.

Since the modern girl's knees have so long appeared the most conspicuous portion of her anatomy.

Then, she is due to lose her straight-up-and-down effect, if we believe the dressmakers.

Once more curved will be the line of beauty.

For the girl as well as for the pitcher's ball.

Instead of rectangular, pillow-slip dresses, belted about the hips (if they).

The normal waistline will be revived. And dresses will follow the lines of the female figure.

Instead of disguising these lines as much as possible—

Apparently not only hips but busts are to be worn again.

Not even the most ardent prophet of the return of the old-fashioned girl has quite dared to say that long, luxuriant tresses will reappear during the coming season.

For one thing, of course, they can't be grown overnight.

Although, on second thought, that little difficulty wouldn't prevent their reappearance.

What the milliners and coiffeurs do assert, however.

Is that hats and haircuts, like figures and frocks, are going feminine—

That in place of these plain, all-enveloping, all-but-like fets.

Hats will have size, shape and trimming. Hats likewise will be modeled to prove that the year-around hat is not bald.

And, since hats will show hair, there will be, there must be hair for hats to show.

Not yards and braids of it, but curls and tendrils and fringes.

Growing softly about the forehead and the nape of the neck.

Bobs may remain, but they will no longer do an imitation of the convict haircut.

As for clothes in general, they will, according to forecast, go furberous—Evening dresses will be cut lower than ever.

Since the wearer must now bundle up below, she may cool off above.

And there will be fluffs and puffs and tricky adornments galore.

Oh, well, maybe girls and women will dress and look just so—

Virgil said it—woman is a changeable creature—

For the world!

HELEN WILLS'S TROUSSEAU FROCKS

By Helen Worden

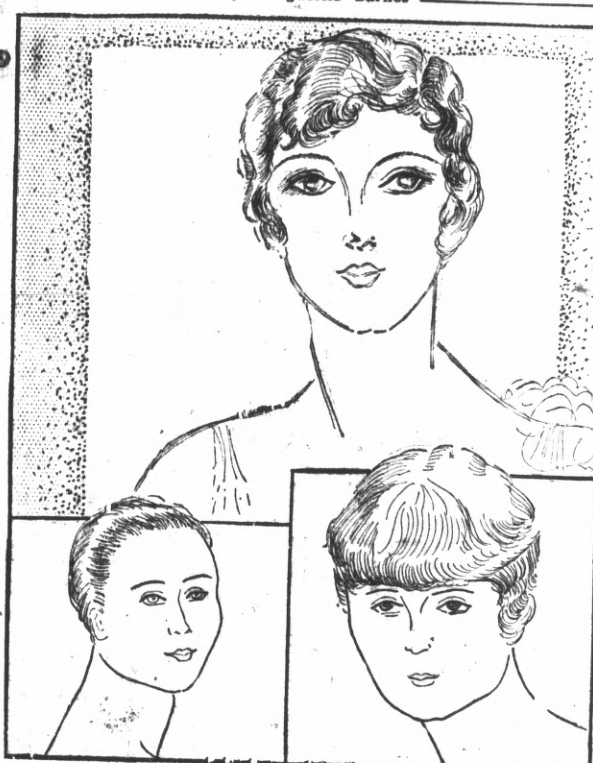

MISS HELEN WILLS includes these two gowns in her fall wardrobe. Friends predict that the wedding of the tennis star to Frederick Shander Moody Jr. will occur early this autumn and that the costumes acquired by Miss Wills on her recent visit to Paris were purchased for her trousseau. At the left is a filmy black, green and yellow chiffon dinner gown, called "Mimosas." It has the popular shirred lines around the hips and waist and a circular capelet cleverly attached to the V shaped décolletage. The frock is posed over a slip of heavy black, satin back crepe. The evening gown at the right has a moulded bodice and hipline, achieved by means of minute tucks. The full skirt trails its uneven length to the floor. For wear with this chiffon frock Miss Wills has chosen a sheer black velvet evening wrap, flesh chiffon stockings and slippers of black satin. Turquoise earrings, waist-length necklace and wide bracelets accent the ivory tones of the more formal gown. The same note of color is repeated in the crepe slippers. A wrap of turquoise blue velvet collared by white fox completes the ensemble.

FOLLIES OF FASHION

By Marguerite Barnes

Severe Bob Not Becoming To Small Featured Woman

THE softly waving bob with small curls clustered around the face is most suitable for the woman with small features. Usually the eyes of this type of woman are set quite close together. If, therefore, she adopts the severe, cropped bob, as illustrated in the lower left corner, there is too wide an expanse of forehead and cheek, which dwarfs the small features even more. Neither is a decided bang cut low on the forehead, as shown in the sketch at the lower right, suitable, because it makes the head appear top heavy and gives a doll-like appearance. The top sketch shows how the eyes can be made to appear larger and wider apart by the discreet use of blue or brown pencil shadows over the lids and at the outer corners. The soft, waving well over the forehead, neutralizes the effect of too small features.

When You Entertain

Color effects are frequently carried out in the foods when entertaining. Coloring prepared especially for foods comes either in paste or liquid form and may be had in red, blue, green, rose, yellow, orange and violet, so it is quite possible to carry out the decorative color scheme in cake frostings, frozen desserts and punches.

For the morning bridge party luncheon may be served on the porch, and to make the service simple it could be a cold meat plate, which means that cold meat, a suitable salad, long buttered rolls, a few olives and sweet pickle or radishes are attractively arranged on each plate and served with a hot or cold beverage. The dessert is served separately.

Kitchen Helps

Sweet cider added to lemonade or fruit punches makes a decidedly good beverage.

When a milk pudding gets burnt, just remove the scorched layer, add some milk and a little butter and re-bake the mixture in a slow oven.

Salads that are served as a separate course at dinner should be mixed with French dressing or a light cream dressing. When served as the main dish at a meal use a mayonnaise or a whipped cream mayonnaise, and a boiled dressing is also good.

MUSINGS ON MENUS

BY NANCY DORRIS

On warm nights in late summer the appetite more than likely develops a whimsicality. Without reason, the full dinner beginning with soup and ending with a sweet fails to strike a chord of appeal.

The wise woman caters to the whimsical appetite and, without seeming to do so, stimulates it with something light and yet nourishing.

A hot or an iced bouillabaisse, an alluring salmon mayonnaise on a bed of crisp cucumber rounds, hot, crisp and salty rolls, a fruit ice and a demi-tasse seem less than nothing.

The salmon mayonnaise may follow the recipe given by Mrs. Joseph Connelley in her cookbook "A Handbook of Cookery." Mrs. Connelley prefers freshly boiled salmon to the canned and cream mayonnaise to that bought ready made or stored in the refrigerator.

SALMON MAYONNAISE (3) One large can fancy salmon, or Two pounds salmon cutlets, cooked Three slender cucumbers

Shred the lettuce and arrange in the salad bowl or upon the platter. Peel the cucumbers and slice very thin over the lettuce bed. Round up the cucumber rounds with the mayonnaise over all. Garnish with pickles and green olives, lemon wedges, etc.

One head fine lettuce One cup of mayonnaise

A spoon of tarragon vinegar seasons Mrs. Connelley's mayonnaise, rather than elder vinegar or lemon juice. The prepared at home by steeping a handful of bruised tarragon leaves in a pint of oil for several days, or until the flavor pleases.

Fresh cucumbers and lettuce, well washed in water, will crisp successfully in the refrigerator, where wilted ones will not. Unless the sliced cucumbers and shredded lettuce are crisp, the salad proves disappointing. The mayonnaise is also improved by a thorough chilling.

The salad maker will have need of a sharp knife, kitchen scissors, can opener, bowl, large spoon, fork, bowl or platter for salad, measuring cup.

Open the salmon, drain and remove it to the can as the salmon is to be served as whole as possible. Free of bones and skin. If fresh cucumbers are available, remove the skin and seeds and leave as whole as possible.

Shred the lettuce and arrange in the salad bowl or upon the platter. Peel the cucumbers and slice very thin over the lettuce bed. Round up the cucumber rounds with the mayonnaise over all. Garnish with pickles and green olives, lemon wedges, etc.

AT LAST SHE FOUND OUT

THE romance of a summer girl. In eight diary instalments: June 26—Arrived at Lake Bohunk to-day. It seems a lively place. Met a wonderful fellow to-night. We are going motoring together to-morrow. He is a peach. His name is Norman.

July 6—Haven't been out with Norman since we went motoring more than a week ago. Have seen him several times but he seems rather cool. Can't imagine what the matter is. It certainly can't be that I was stinky with my necking on that motor ride. I only wish I knew what the trouble was.

July 14—Norman has been acting cool to me as usual. To-day I could stand it no longer and when I met him at the popcorn stand I asked him what the trouble was. He only smiled and said that nothing was the matter. I wish I knew what it was.

July 24—Met a lovely chap to-day. His name is Albert and he says his father is a millionaire. We are going to the dance to-morrow night. I think I know what came between I and Norman. I read in the paper this morning the symptoms of jealousy. A gradual loss of friends is the very first symptom and no matter how close they are to you, they will never tell you a thing about it. So I have bought and started using the right kind of tooth paste. I'm glad I found out what the trouble was. Not that I care about losing Norman's friendship, as Albert is so attractive and has lots more money.

July 27—Went to dance last night with Albert and had an adorable time. He is a jolly chap, but somewhat peculiar. We were having a swell time sitting out one of the dances in an alcove when Albert knitted his brow and said some French air would do some good. After that he was very cool, but still he seemed distant. Maybe some of his private business affairs bothered him. Anyway, he gave me a good night soul kiss and how that boy can neck!

Aug. 2—Had another date with Albert last night but he didn't show up at the corner. While I was waiting another chap came by and we talked a while. His name is Herman and his father owns a couple of department stores in Kansas City, Mo., or Kansas City, Kan. I never can keep those two cities straight. We are going to the movies together to-morrow night.

Aug. 4—Herman is gorgeous. We peeped something curious during the two-reel comic at the movies last night and then came the main feature, Greta Garbo and John Gilbert. It was tremendous, being there with Herman at my side. But right in the middle of the picture he complained it was getting close and suggested we move over to the side near the electric fan. I didn't mind that, but an exit sign shone right above us and Herman didn't get any more. And what an incentive with Greta and John on the screen. Herman is a rather peculiar fellow, I guess.

Aug. 21—I have found out what the trouble was. I didn't have halitosis. It was B. O. Bought six cakes of the right kind of soap to use and spent the afternoon in the bathtub. On the way to the post office at 6 P. M. I stopped to talk a few minutes with Norman, Albert and Herman. They all seemed delighted to see me. To-night Norman came around and asked me to go to marry him in the fall, and Herman begged me to elope with him to-night. But I turned them all down. I am going to bathe in six more cakes of anti-B. O. soap and wait for the Prince of Wales.

Progress in Industry

Building blocks are being made from excelsior, compressed and fireproofed, walls being strengthened by pouring concrete through aligned holes in the blocks.

Ischembia is planning to manufacture bricks from oil shale.

A double-tubed tank ship, having steam pipes between its hulls, has been built to keep asphalt warm while being shipped and preventing it hardening.

Scientific Advances

At the present increase in the rate of longevity, an expert has estimated, the average American by the end of the present century should live to be eighty years old.

In making of dynamites he has made course at dinner should be mixed with French dressing or a light cream dressing. When served as the main dish at a meal use a mayonnaise or a whipped cream mayonnaise, and a boiled dressing is also good.

When a new portable electric kitchen is closed, it becomes an attractive table.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deep as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

BARTHELMESS EDITOR IN 'DRAG'

In the role of David Carroll, a young newspaperman, Richard Barthelmess writes a musical play in "Drag" his newest Vitaphone production which comes to the Fox-California theater tomorrow.

A complete scene from this musical production is reproduced in the Vitaphone process in "Drag" and a beautiful, haunting song entitled "My Song of the Nile" is played and sung by a large stage ensemble.

In the story, Barthelmess writes and composes a musical production called "The Love Prince." This is produced by the Women's Guild of Paris, Vermont. Later in the story, when the star is faced by a critical moment in his life, "The Love Prince" comes to his rescue and gains for him the independence so necessary to his happiness.

"Drag" is based on the novel by William Dudley Pelley and was directed by Frank Lloyd. It is 100 percent dialogue production in which Barthelmess has appeared. The first was the sensational hit "Weary River." It includes Lila Lee, Alice Day, Katharine Ward, Lucien Littlefield, Tom Dugan, Margaret Fielding and others.

A Laurel and Hardy talking comedy, "Men O' War" is also on the bill.

INCREASES IN BANK ASSETS SHOWN

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—The combined assets of all California state banks were $1,447,865,000 on June 29, 1929 according to figures just announced by W. C. Wood, state superintendent of banks in the banking department's bulletin for September.

This figure represented an increase of nearly $6,000,000 over the total for the same banks on March 27, 1929.

Gross deposits of all state banks show an increase of $7,488,000 during the same period. The increase was due entirely to deposits other than those of individuals.

Loans and discounts of the commercial banks were greater by more than $8,000,000; for the savings banks they were less by nearly that sum with the result that the statement for all banks shows a net increase of a little over $30,000 in this item.

Bank holdings in state banks as a whole decreased by $1,382,000 since the March statement. Cash resources however, showed an increase of $18,671,000 in spite of the fact that bills payable and redemptions were less by over $6,000,000 than at the end of March.

The most significant increases in assets, individual deposits and cash resources occurred in the group of banks reporting outside the San Francisco and Los Angeles areas. These banks, which account for about one-fourth of the resources of all state banks, showed a growth during the last three months of $12,000,000 in assets; of $4,000,000 in loans and discounts; of nearly $9,000,000 in individual deposits and in cash resources a growth equal to that of the state as a whole.

"Taking the state as a whole," said Wood, "the condition of the banks is entirely satisfactory. State banks show an increase in gross deposits and resources. The general financial situation which has prevailed in the nation as a whole, due apparently to the diversion of funds from the usual uses of inter-bank transactions and deposits in the call money market, is visible in California banks also. However we may look with satisfaction upon increases of approximately $150,000,000 in total resources and of $100,000,000 in gross deposits in all California banks during the fiscal year just ended."

BULL MONTANA WILL CLAM BRIDE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—UP—With a sheepish grin on his face and a blonde on his arm, the big brute "Bull" Montana walked into the marriage license bureau here and announced that he had lost in a bout with cupid.

Montana, who cheerfully admits that he looks more like a gorilla than most gorillas do, introduced his attractive companion as Mary M. Poulson Mathews. Miss Mathews came forward with the announcement that she was 23 years old, a widow, a secretary and a cashier.

Montana grinned from the completely catfished ear on the left to the just as completely catfished ear on the right.

"Dis looks ever had show me pretty hard," the movie "he man" said, "Carraamba! how I love dis woman."

He put an affectionate half-nelson hold about the "litt' woman's" neck and she grinned as though she liked it.

Denies Name
Montana is a wrestler. He shyly admitted to the license clerk that he was a "movie star" and that he did wrestling on the side.

"I been thrown plenty by them fellas in the ring, but never like this. Oh how I love dis woman" which called for several more half-nelsons.

The ugly bride-groom admitted that his name wasn't "Bull" at all. In a rather cramped and difficult manner he inscribed "Lud Montana" on the application. His age he gave as 41.

"The 'Bull' refused to say when the marriage will take place. However, under the license law, the license cannot be issued until three days after notice of intent is filed, which in this case is Monday.

A "Secret"
"Dis is not a scheduled performance," the wrestling actor said with dignity. "It is a secret."

An unkind newspaper reporter asked Montana if the prospective bride was the housekeeper who banged him over the head with a shoe in his Glendale home about a year ago.

"Gentlemen," the Gorilla man announced with dignity, "Miss Mathews is not that housekeeper."

He smiled wanly as he remembered how the woman in question had knocked him out with a well delivered blow on the head with the boot, sending him rushing to a police station for protection.

DIRECTORS FOR DAIRY SHOW NAMED

OAKLAND, Sept. 13.—Official state recognition for the Pacific Slope Dairy Show, held here annually, has been granted through the appointment by C. C. Young of eight directors for the First District Agricultural association, which will be allied with the dairy show, according to Robert E. Jones, secretary manager of show association.

The ninth annual dairy show, with representation from at least 20 states, Canada and the Hawaiian Islands, will be held Nov. 16 to 22.

Directors of the new agricultural association named by Gov. Young are: Thomas E. Day of Oakland, general manager of the Golden State Milk Products company; Paul Goldsmith of Piedmont, president of the Alameda County Development commission; Sam H. Greene of Oakland, secretary-manager of California Dairy council and a director of the Dairy show; H. R. Thompson of Berkeley, secretary of the Berkeley chamber of commerce; E. S. Babue, of Oakland, president and general manager, Standard Creameries; A. R. Linn of Alameda, manager of the Alameda chamber of commerce; M. A. Callahan, postmaster of Livermore; Robert E. Jones, secretary manager and director, Pacific Slope Dairy show association.

"The movement for state recognition of the dairy show through the organization of the First District Agricultural association, was started more than a year and a half ago in cooperation with the Alameda County Development commission through the initiative of its president, Paul Goldsmith," said Jones. "We acted with the council and co-operation of Robert A. Conlee, president of the California State Fair and vice president of the dairy show association."

"Formation of agricultural district No. 1, which includes Alameda county, was made possible through a bill introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Roy Bishop of Alameda. This bill was approved by Gov. C. C. Young May 29 and became a law August 1. Under the terms of the law a petition was circulated and filed with Governor Young providing for the formation of the district. Appointment of the directors by Governor Young completed the organization.

"Directors of the Pacific Slope Dairy show are immensely gratified at having state recognition, and also with the hearty cooperation received not only from all parts of California but from other states as well."

INSPECT BRAKES
Hydraulic brakes should be inspected and serviced occasionally, in spite of the fact that they seem to function perfectly. It occasionally happens that air gets into the lines and when this occurs, it is necessary to clean the entire system and replace the air with brake fluid.

FOUR DEVILS PLEASES MANY

In its premiere last night at the Fox-California theater, the Fox Movietone production "4 Devils" which features Janet Gaynor in her first talking role, was accorded an enthusiastic reception.

Miss Gaynor's large army of local admirers have awaited with keen anticipation her talking debut, and the winsome Fox star scores a personal triumph in this new medium.

"4 Devils" which E. W. Murnau directed with rare artistry, is human, logical drama containing all the ingredients that always have gone into the biggest screen successes.

The story is most absorbing, and the fascinating circus background sets off to advantage one of the most novel stories of love yet to be introduced into a picture—lights, shadows, tears suspense and thrills.

Little wonder that this audible presentation of "4 Devils" attains the heights, and new laurels should accrue to Mary Duncan, Charles Morton, Farrell Macdonald, Barry Norton, and Nancy Drexel for their talking performances in support of Miss Gaynor.

Also on the bill is a Mickey Mouse cartoon and Fox Talking News.

KRATZER PARTY HOME FROM EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kratzer arrived in Richmond yesterday morning from a motor trip of Europe. Kratzer, who is Richmond dealer for the Buick automobile, and Mrs. Kratzer left Richmond several months ago on the tour.

Driving to Detroit they took delivery on a new Buick car and then drove to Boston where the machine was shipped to Ireland. They were joined by Mrs. Martie Jones, wife of the Santa Cruz chief of police, and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Barker and daughter Josephine of San Jose, who accompanied the local party on the tour.

A tour of Ireland and the British Isles was made. A special touring pass was obtained from the Irish Automobile club which gave them entry to all countries.

3000 Mile Trip
After the tour of the British Isles, the party went to the continent and toured more than 3000 miles. At the end of the tour they arrived in Paris where Kratzer sold his car.

France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy were touched by the party on its tour. Stops were made at the larger cities, and often at the smaller villages where better views of the national habits could be obtained.

No trouble was encountered in securing accommodations in many of the cities as the English language has grown in popularity, Kratzer said.

Gasoline High
Gasoline sells from 30 to 50 cents a gallon in Europe, Kratzer said. The highest price for motor fuel was paid in Switzerland.

American automobiles are popular on the continent, Kratzer declared. At London the general manager of the General Motors plant told the local dealer that more than 65 percent of the cars sold in Europe are of American makes.

Standard Oil and Shell Oil gasoline are popular in many of the countries. The highways are good with the French and German roads the best, in Kratzer's opinion.

Driving Hazards
Driving through Switzerland is a test for any driver, considering the number of mountain roads.

One hazard of driving in Amsterdam is the number of bicycles seen on the streets, Kratzer said. There are more than 750,000 bicycles registered in the city.

American motor tourists in Europe are increasing, Kratzer said. One fine rhinestone machine is to be used by American drivers. The cost of shipping an automobile to Europe and return, including insurance and license fees, is less than $500.

More than 4200 feet of motion pictures were taken by the Kratzers with an amateur motion picture outfit. These films are being developed and will be shown here.

Ukiah Not In Danger Of Forest Fires

of the fires had been due to incendiarism, adding he had been furnished evidence that they were. He said he had two charges one that the brush was so thick some ranchers wished to burn it off and thus gain better grazing lands, the other that hunters were responsible.

Greatest danger to Ukiah was from two fires on Pine Ridge, four miles west, one on Cow Mountain, six miles east, and Low Gap, three miles west. It was from Low Gap that flames swept down on Ukiah in 1922 and ate their way into a section of the city.

Other fires were receiving attention from Pratt's deputies at Tomki and Round Valley, approximately 12 miles north, Potter Valley, 18 miles northeast, Sherwood, 30 miles north, Farely, 40 miles north, Cummings, 62 miles north, Bell Springs, 72 miles north and the Lake-Mendocino county line nine miles east.

U. S., GREAT BRITAIN ACCORD IN DISARMAMENT PLAN SEEN

Complete Accord Seen

The only point still to be cleared up is that involving the 20,000 tons and this is expected to be settled before Premier MacDonald arrives here Oct. 4 so that a complete accord between the United States and Great Britain can be announced at that time.

The almost completed agreement represents negotiations carried on for several weeks by the United States with Great Britain, through American Ambassador Davies.

The two powers sought an agreement as a basis of discussion of a five power conference, as the failure of the two to agree on cruisers caused the breakdown of the 1926 Geneva conference and the other nations believed it essential that Great Britain and the United States should agree on the disputed points before another conference was called.

To Save Millions
President Hoover hopes that the conference in 1936 will achieve still further naval reduction, so that not only will the world's naval armaments be pared down but the peoples of the world will be saved millions of dollars in taxes for navies.

By 1936 a large part of the submarines now in use will be obsolete so that the way will be opened for considerable reduction in this type of ship. The same is true of destroyers, and the United States is hopeful that the tonnage in this class for Great Britain and the United States will be reduced to between 125,000 and 150,000 tons each. The United States now has 300,000 tons of destroyers and Great Britain 200,000.

The British concession on cruisers for a tonnage of 340,000 is regarded here as a major one.

At the Geneva conference, the United States held out for a tonnage of 450,000. This concession is regarded as largely responsible for the agreement, for while the United States would have preferred even a smaller tonnage, the reduction to this figure was an important victory.

United States tonnage in cruisers when the 1924 and 1929 programs are completed—comprising 23 cruisers all told—will be only 305,000 tons, but under the agreement this will be regarded as equal to 340,000 tons of British cruisers on the basis of the Hoover "yardstick" whereby factors besides tonnage were taken into consideration.

The principal factor involved Great Britain's need for numerous smaller cruisers which she requires because of the great number of her possessions, while the United States needs larger cruisers.

United States naval bases and insular possessions are far apart, requiring large cruisers with a wide steaming radius, while Great Britain's naval bases are more numerous and closer, so that smaller vessels fill her need.

While actual tonnage of the United States would be less than that of Great Britain, any attack on this by big navy advocates can be offset by pointing out that the United States will not have to scrap any vessels, but can complete her whole program.

Letters Asked In Yanni Estate

MARTINEZ, Sept. 13.—Public Administrator Raymond Johnson today applied for letters of administration in the estate of the late Joseph Yanni of Richmond.

Yanni left a will bequeathing the estate to Mrs. Theresa Banducci of Richmond. The Italian consul at San Francisco contested the will on behalf of Yanni's mother, who is living in Italy.

After hearing testimony that Yanni was delirious for several days before his death during which time he executed the will, Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie indicated that he would uphold the contest if it can be shown that Yanni's mother is still alive.

Johnson contends that the estate should be handled by his office if the will is voided.

GRID SEASON WILL OPEN TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—UP—One of the most attractive and eagerly awaited seasons of the Pacific Coast intercollegiate football conference will open Saturday and find five teams clamoring for national attention.

Uniforms were issued at 10 universities of the conference and the players who will delight more than 1,250,000 spectators this fall ducked in front of newspaper photographers today.

As the curtain is drawn back to reveal the men who will cavort over Pacific coast gridirons this season, Oregon, University of Southern California, California Bears, Stanford and Washington appear to be leading contenders.

Big Improvement
Greatest improvement over last season, which was a record year in the circuit, will probably be noted on the Eugene campus of the University of Oregon. The Webfoots will start practice tomorrow, the official time set by conference rules, with an imposing array of men who won letters on the 1928 team, which finished fourth.

The Trojans of Southern California, who were conceded the championship by California last year although the teams each had perfect percentages, appear to be faster and most likely will again present a diversified style of play—offensive and defensive being equally stressed by Coach Howard Jones.

California's Bears are expected to produce once more the outstanding defensive outfit west of the Rocky mountains. Their goal line was only crossed twice last year.

Cards Good
Respected by all opponents for more than a quarter of a century, Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner of Stanford seems to be at the beginning of a characteristic season as the mentor of an eleven that has exceptional deception and is willing to risk a loss in yardage for a touchdown. The Cardinals were in third place when their last schedule ended.

With hereditary that equates that of any team on the coast and when their coach was the object of ooster proceedings by the student body that failed Washington's Huskies loom up to cause their usual trouble.

These five teams will have as hurdles, any one of which they might trip on, the University of California, Los Angeles, Washington State, Idaho, Oregon State and Montana.

Game Oct. 5.
In only three weeks the first important encounter of the new season will be played. Oregon will oppose Stanford at Palo Alto on Oct. 5 and from the result of this game teams in California can be compared with those in the northwest. A victory for Oregon would virtually assure the northwestern of a place near the top since they do not have to meet California or U. S. C.

The athletes who reported today will engage in nine intercollegiate contests primary of which will be California against Pennsylvania in the east, Stanford against Army at Palo Alto, Oregon against Florida at Miami, Washington against Chicago in the middle west, and U. S. C. against Notre Dame at Chicago.

Probably for the first time in the history of football along the Pacific line men are due to receive the same attention from fans that has been given backfield stars.

Best Coasters Good
In fact the most prominent candidate from this region for a place on the mythical all-American team may be one of four centers who gained renown last season. The battle of snappers-backs is certain to be one of principal interest to all interested.

Those who aspire highest honors among centers are Nate Barrager, captain of the Trojans, Walter Heinzecke, Stanford, George Stadelman, Oregon, and Roy Riegels, captain of California.

In addition to Stadelman, Oregon may present sensational players in Austin Colbert, tackle, and Johnny Kitzmiller, the "Flying Dutchman" half back.

Lon Laufer
Russell Saunders, who has won laurels as a half back will be an able assistant to Barrager for U. S. C.

The triple-threat men will find hard competition from Benny Lon, University of California veteran who will be the mainstay of the Bears' backfield.

"Down on the farm" at Stanford, where formations A and B of Warner fame will be mixed and at least three different backfield combinations will be available, Ed Simmons, Chuck Small and Herb Fleischacker in the backfield, Capt. "Mush" Muller on an end and Heinzecke are expected to be leaders.

Washington's team will apparently be built around Paul Jes-

Play In Elks League To Be Resumed Sunday

With a two weeks' respite over the holidays' new history, contenders for the Elks baseball pennant will resume its games tomorrow.

The Richmond team will play host to the San Francisco nine at the First street park at 2:30 p. m. while the Alameda and Oakland teams will meet at Alameda.

The Elks league has aroused unusual interest in bush baseball circle and every game has been attended by a large group of fans.

Richmond Leads
The next three Sundays will see the final round played, with Richmond and Alameda to play a postponed game at the conclusion of the league.

Richmond is in the lead of the league, having won four games and lost one and Alameda is in second position with three wins and two defeats. Oakland and San Francisco are tied for third place with two wins and four defeats each.

Attracts Fans
San Francisco defeated the Richmond team several weeks ago by a score of 16 to 3.

Roy Bliss or Dutch Kogler will be used on the mound for the Richmond team while Hanson, Bertoli or Johnson will receive.

The game will probably attract a large crowd.

OAKS DEFEATED BY PORTLAND DUCKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—UP—Leaders of the Pacific Coast league retained their respective positions today but the fourth place San Francisco Seals closed in on the league leading Hollywood Shiks until only three games separated them.

The Missions in second position, failed to beat Hollywood 4 to 2, and the Seals trounced the third place Los Angeles Angels, 18 to 6. Therefore each of the important series was all even.

One run in each of the last three innings boosted the Missions into a tie with Hollywood and then a victory. Hollywood had scored its two runs in the second inning. The Seals featured their victory with 13 runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

Portland stayed close behind the Seals, with a 4 to 3 victory over Oakland while Sacramento continued to play close ball with Seattle, winning by the narrow margin of 2 to 1.

Foxx, Simmons Battle For Bat Honors
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—UP—A three cornered battle for the individual batting championship of the American league, has developed between Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons of the Philadelphia Athletics and Jimmy Fonesca of the Cleveland Indians.

Through games of Thursday, Sept. 12, Foxx holds a lead of one percentage point over Fonesca, with Simmons trailing the Cleveland first baseman by the same margin, according to the United Press averages.

Foxx Leads
Foxx is batting .369, Fonesca .368 and Simmons .367. Heinie Manush of the St. Louis Browns is in fourth place, only seven points behind Foxx, with a mark of .362.

Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, Phillies' outfielder, is slowly drawing away from Babe Herman of Brooklyn in the race for the National league batting championship. O'Doul is batting .396 and has increased his lead over Herman to 10 points. Herman is batting .386.

Bill Terry, New York Giants' first baseman, is third with .376 and Rogers Hornsby, Chicago Cubs' second baseman is fourth with .373.

Grove Leads Chasers
Lefty Grove of the Athletics is the real leader among American league pitchers with 20 victories and four defeats, although Tom Zachary, New York Yankees' veteran southpaw, has a record of 10 games won and none lost and Ed Rommel, Grove's teammate, has a record of 11 games won and two lost.

Guy Bush, Chicago Cubs' ace, continues to lead the National league pitchers with 15 victories and five defeats.

COBB DECLARES A'S WILL WIN

LONDON, Sept. 13.—P—The Philadelphia Athletics will defeat the Chicago Cubs in the World Series because the Cubs are afraid of fast-ball pitchers. Ty Cobb said today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Cobb added that the Athletics in his opinion had a better balanced batting team than the Cubs.

Cobb is considering two offers to return to baseball as president of National league clubs. He has not decided, however, whether he wants to return to baseball or spend the rest of his life travelling and hunting.

"I am sure of one thing," Cobb said, "even if I was starving to death I never would manage another ball club. It is the meanest job in the world."

Isaac Walton Undone By Tale Of Fisherman
SEVIERVILLE, Tenn., —R. H. Yet holds the prize for the best fish story of the season so far. Here it is:

"While up at Mt. LeConte, I fished in Uncle Steve Whaley's fish pond. There was a top four fall and I was fishing below the fall. I had a net below the fall and standing at the top with a hook hanging over the water. The fish would jump for the hook and go over the fall into the net."

"I caught about 100 fish this way."

Athletes Win; Cubs Defeated By Phillies

By UNITED PRESS

American League:
Al Simmons' thirtieth home run of the season in the eighth inning Friday gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 5 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The home run came with two men on bases and broke a 2 to 2 tie. The Athletics now need but two games to win the American league pennant.

Joe Judge's three base hit led the Washington Senators to a 4 to 3 win over the Cleveland Indians. Milt Shoffner, rookie Indian pitcher, held the Senators to seven hits.

Rain prevented the St. Louis Browns-New York Yankee game. National League:

The Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs Friday, 7 to 6. Sheriff Blake, pitching for the Cubs was very wild and good fielding kept the Philly score down. The Cubs need but three games to win the National league pennant.

Ray Moss held the Cincinnati Reds to eight hits and the Brooklyn Dodgers won 4 to 2. It was Moss' eleventh victory.

The St. Louis Cardinals took a double header from the Boston Braves 3 to 2, and 5 to 3. A two run rally in the last inning of the first game and a three run rally in the seventh inning of the second game won for the Cards.

Rain prevented the New York Giant-Pittsburgh Pirate game.

Herbert Suhr, Harry Randall In Net Tourney

Herbert Suhr and Harry Randall, last year's doubles champions in the Contra Costa county championship tennis matches played here, have entered the 1929 championship play, according to A. S. Remell, who is in charge of the arrangements.

Robert Selars, champion of the Pacific Coast has also entered the contests. Remell announced.

Richmond tennis fans will see plenty of action this year in the county title matches, which will start Sept. 25. Some of the best known players in the state will enter the contest.

Entries will close Sept. 21, Remell stated.

Stetson, Glick Bout Postponed

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—UP—A dep cut over the right eye was suffered by Frankie Stetson, local lightweight during training here and forced him to call off his scheduled 10 round bout with Joe Glick of Brooklyn here next Monday night.

The cut was inflicted while Stetson was sparring and was an inch and a half long. The promoter of the bout was seeking a substitute to meet Glick.

HIGH GRIDDERS DEFEATED BY MACKMEN

The McClymond High school varsity football squad defeated the Richmond Union high school gridgers 7-6 on McClymond's field yesterday. Accamazo made Richmond's only touchdown soon after the game began. Gugich crossed the line for McClymond high in the third quarter.

The game started with a strong advance by Richmond to McClymond's goal, where Accamazo finally plunged over for a touchdown. During the last part of the quarter, the Mackmen pressed heavily on the Richmond line, pushing them back to their ten yard line where the quarter ended.

Richmond opened the second quarter by punting to mid-field. McClymond made several long runs, and gave the crowd a thrill by throwing an incomplete pass behind Richmond's goal. McClymond punted, recovering at Richmond's goal line, and Gugich plunged through for McClymond's touchdown. McClymond converted, making the point that won the game. The rest of the quarter was occupied by mid-field play, without any large gains.

In the third quarter, McClymond made several passes which brought the ball to Richmond's five yard line. Richmond punted to center. The teams struggled in mid-field until the quarter ended.

During the last period, neither of the teams were able to make many downs, and punted often. Richmond made three incomplete passes in succession in a last vain attempt for victory, as the game ended.

The starting lineup for Richmond was: Degan, Freeman, ends; Neckle, Dunleavy, tackles; Peters, Barton, guards; Wilson, center; Aall, quarterback; Accamazo, Arnold halfbacks and Lane fullback. The substitutes for Richmond were: Locke, Massick at ends; Carson, Jewell, Scofield tackles; Rosano, Viano, Scarcella halfbacks.

The McClymond lineup was: Walsh, Verdugo, ends; Brown, Ferge, tackles; Peterson, Jones, guards; Kent center; Mutos, Shelton, halfbacks; Denham, quarterback and Gugich, fullback. The substitutes for McClymond were: Mickey, tackle; Radovan, guard; Frinkie, halfback; and Titus fullback.

Strength Regained

Woodland, Cal., Mar. 28, 1928.

Several months ago I strained my back. It was very painful and got worse every day. My general health was affected and I became so weak that I could scarcely walk.

I was recommended to take the Fong Wan herbs. After the first three weeks of the treatment I had gained seven pounds in weight. My health is now entirely restored, my back is well and I am strong again.

I take pleasure in endorsing the wonderful herbs of Fong Wan.

E. J. FOSTER TO VICTIM BLAMED COUNTY GIVEN HEAD G. A. R. VETERANS IN PANTAGES ACCIDENT 56 AWARDS AT FAIR

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 13.—(U.P.)—Edwin J. Foster of Worcester, Mass., was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the closing session of the 63rd National encampment.

He will succeed Commander J. W. Reese of Broken Row, Neb., who served as commander-in-chief for the past year.

The long controversy over a possible reunion between the G. A. R. and Veterans of the Confederacy was brought to a dramatic close today when vote was taken to table the matter.

This action came after prolonged debate that produced some brilliant oratory as gray-haired veterans with quivering voices recommended or opposed the proposed resolution.

Reporting through its chairman, Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the committee on resolutions voiced disapproval of the contemplated reunion and recommended the matter be tabled.

Frank O. Cole of Newark, N. J., secretary of the committee on resolutions, in debating on the reunion, said, "When they fold away their confederate flag and store them in museums and accept one flag—Old Glory—we then will be ready for a reunion."

The grand army also went on record as being in favor of the Volstead act and opposed to any modification of the present national prohibition laws.

The determined cross examination obtained his admission that "the screaming of brakes" drew his notice.

Not Interested

"I didn't say I never saw it, but I did say that the accident had nothing to do with me, that it wasn't my accident and that I felt there were so many other people who could testify at the inquest that I wouldn't be needed," Contorno told the state.

Prosecution witnesses have said there was no third car near the two which hit.

Contorno testified that he had no reason to believe Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated at the time of the accident, but admitted that in his previous statement he had said he did not observe her condition.

The fight over whether Mrs. Pantages was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident assumed major proportions again in the session today.

Liquor Question

Two physicians were called by the defense to testify that they did not smell any liquor on the defendant's breath when they attended her after the accident.

State's witnesses have accused her of being intoxicated.

Dr. Hill Hastings, eye, ear and throat specialist, testified that he treated Mrs. Pantages in her home, about three hours after the collision and smelled no liquor on her breath.

He said that in his opinion she was not intoxicated.

Dr. Leland S. Chapman, personal physician to the Pantages family, testified that he visited Mrs. Pantages about five hours after the accident, and did not smell liquor on her breath.

Operation Performed

Drs. F. C. Fishbaugh and Maurice Kahn, of the Good Samaritan hospital staff were put on the stand by the defense to testify regarding an operation performed upon Mrs. Pantages. They said it was made necessary by internal injuries, and that the shock of the crash might have caused symptoms like those of intoxication. As they did not see Mrs. Pantages until the day after the accident they were not questioned regarding liquor smells.

Mrs. Pantages' husband, Alexander Pantages, who will go to trial late this month on a charge of attacking 17-year old Eunice Pringle, dancer who sought booking on his theater circuit, was in the courtroom again today.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 13.—With a silver cup for the best county exhibit and 56 awards, Contra Costa county scored heavily at the Diamond Jubilee state fair held recently in Sacramento.

The county received 20 first prizes with blue ribbons, 19 second prizes with red ribbons, 15 third prizes with white ribbons and two sweepstakes.

Many visitors to the fair expressed the belief that the Contra Costa county exhibit was the finest in the building, according to A. B. Wilson, county commissioner in charge of the exhibit for his first time.

The list of awards as reported by Wilson are as follows:

Apples, two first and two seconds and second in sweepstakes; almonds, one first and one third; apricots, one first, seven seconds and five thirds and third in sweepstakes; cherries, one first for Bing; grapes, two seconds and one third; peaches, three firsts and one third; plums and prunes, one second and three thirds; pears, two firsts and two thirds; potatoes, third.

Tomatoes, first; melons, second; pop corn, first; wheat, first barley, third; walnuts, two firsts one second and one third; jelly, four firsts and four seconds and chili sauce, first.

Youth Given Life Sentence

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13.—(U.P.)—Sentence of life imprisonment was imposed on Walter J. Finke, 17, for the murder of Herbert Beem, 19, in a corridor at Jefferson high school on May 20.

The two youths had been rivals in a high school love affair.

Sentence was pronounced by Circuit Judge Gilbert after Finke had changed his original plea of not guilty on a charge of murder in the first degree to murder in the second degree.

It was said that an effort may be made in a few years to obtain a parole or executive clemency for Finke should his conduct merit such action.

Finke turned the gun on himself after shooting Beem. He spent a few weeks in a hospital and lingered between life and death for several days.
